SUBARU DRIVER SVERRE ISACHSEN WINS BROZE MEDAL AT X GAMES LOS ANGELES

LOS ANGELES, Aug 4, 2013 - Former European RallyCross Champion Sverre Isachsen achieved his first X Games medal this weekend at X Games Los Angeles, the Global RallyCross Championship's most high-profile event, piloting his 2013 Subaru WRX STI Rallycross car. The Subaru PUMA RallyCross Team driver expertly won his heat race and then overcame a false start penalty in the Final to finish 3rd overall in the hotly contested Global RallyCross event at the Irwindale Event Center. The podium finish is the team's best finish of the season thus far after Isachsen achieved a 4th and 6th overall finish respectively at the previous two rounds.

The Global RallyCross event at X Games Los Angeles is the pinnacle of Rallycross in the North America and features the deepest field of rallycross superstars in front of a Worldwide X Games television audience. The event was held on a purpose built gravel and tarmac race course at the Irwindale Event Center in Los Angeles, California. The Subaru PUMA RallyCross Team entered Sverre Isachsen, Dave Mirra and Bucky Lasek in identical Vermont SportsCar prepared 2013 Subaru WRX STI Rallycross cars featuring Symmetrical All-Wheel Drive. Damage from an on-track incident prevented Mirra from making a run to the Final while Lasek finished 3rd Overall in the Last Chance Qualifier heat, just missing one of the two transfer spots to the Final.

Team leader Isachsen however had a fantastic run by first triumphing over 2011 X Games Los Angeles Rallycross Gold medal winner Brian Deegan in the first Heat race. With the Heat race victory Isachsen advanced straight to Final and would start from the coveted front row of the grid. Isachsen mistakenly launched his Subaru just a moment too soon in the Final as the green start lights flashed and although he held an early lead he would need to perform a stop-and-go penalty due to the jump start. The stop-and-go penalty dropped Isachsen from 1st Overall to 4th Overall but he was able to make a clean pass on Travis Pastrana mid-way through the race to take 3rd Overall. The only scare came in the final two laps when Isachsen's left rear tire was punctured slowing his challenge toward 2nd Overall. He was able to hold on to 3rd Overall easily however and earned his first X Games medal in the process.

"I'm so glad right now," said Isachsen at the medal ceremony. "This is like a victory for us. I want to thank all my crew and team in the Subaru PUMA RallyCross Team. We deserved this one! My Subaru was really good today and I was really happy with beating Deegan in the heat race as well. I'm very happy to earn a Bronze for Subaru today!"

There won't be much time for celebration as the team's trucks are already en-route to the next round of the Global RallyCross Championship at Atlanta Motor Speedway Saturday, August 10th. The Atlanta round will be televised live on ESPN2, August 10th at 6:30pm ET.
